STELLO ASKS REHEARING OF HIS APPEAL

Karl H. Stello, variously of New Oxford R. 2, Mummansburg and Maryland filed a petition with the county court Saturday asking a rehearing on his appeal for return of $300 cash bail and also asks a change of venue.

Stello lost the $300 when he failed to appear for sentencing on traffic charges. He appealed for return of the money, alleging he never had proper notification. He asked a change of venue at that time. Judge Dale Shugart was asked by the state Supreme Court to hear Stello's appeal and after testimony dismissed Stello's appeal on March 22. Apparently as soon as he received word of the dismissal of his appeal Stello made the new move.

PRISONER STRICKEN

The court authorized the removal of George A. Quesenberry, Aspers, from the Allegheny County Workhouse to St. Francis General Hospital, Pittsburgh, upon notification by the Allegheny authorities that Quesenberry, serving 11 to 22 months on a burglary charge, had been stricken with appendicitis.

The court Saturday named Attorney Eugene R. Hartman, Roy D. Renner and John K. Lott as the board of view to set damages to the property of Joseph F. and Phyllis L. Smith, Hanover R. 4, caused by the state Department of Highways taking part of the couple's farm in Conewago Twp. for highway purposes. The taking took place on July 11, 1962. The Smiths bought the 92-acre farm in September, 1962, from Sacred Heart Basilica, but said that the purchase included all rights concerning the condemned portion of the land.

DIVORCE GRANTED

Walter J. Hamm Jr., New Oxford R. 1, was granted a divorce from Leona M. Hamm, New Oxford R. 1. The couple wed in 1945 at Hanover.

The court appointed Attorney John A. MacPhail master in the divorce action of Betty L. (Wiseman) Blubaugh, 57 E. King St., Littlestown, against Richard U. Blubaugh, Waynesboro R. 1. The couple wed February 23, 1962, at Westminster. Indignities are charged.

Attorney S. M. Raffensperger was appointed master in the divorce action of Mary E. (Benchoff) Hinkle, 246 S. Franklin St. against Cpl. Edward A. Hinkle, U.S. Army, 563 Medical Battalion, Nuremberg, Germany. The couple wed January 8, 1940, in Leesburg, Va. Indignities are charged, according to the complaint filed by Attorney Ronald J. Hagerman for Mrs. Hinkle.

COUNTYMAN IS KILLED IN RIVER PLUNGE

Lloyd G. Wolf, Hanover R. 5, was killed early Saturday when the cab of his tractor-trailer truck plunged into the Patuxent River near Baltimore after a three-vehicle collision.

The victim, father of nine children and husband of Daryl Little Wolf, resided in Conewago Twp. Results of an autopsy performed at Baltimore City Hospital will not be known until later this week.

Maryland state police said that a pickup truck, out of gas, was stopped in the slow lane of the Baltimore beltway near Glen Burnie with its lights out about 2:15 a.m.

30-FT. FALL

A car crashed into the rear of the truck and Wolf's tractor-trailer hit the car, spinning it around, police said. The spinning car severed the connection between the cab and the trailer of Wolf's vehicle.

The cab with Wolf in it knocked down about 150 feet of guard rail and went over the side of a bridge and fell about 30 feet into six feet of water, police said.

The trailer, loaded with steel coils, continued down the highway several feet before stopping.

Most March Rain In Decade

This morning's showers helped build up the March surplus of rain that already has made it the wettest March here since 1955.

The month's total rainfall now stands at 5.19 inches. Normal is 3.84 inches so that the surplus to date is 1.35 inches. Measurable amounts of rain or snow fell on eight days this month.

The March snows, some of them since the arrival of spring 10 days ago, total 12 inches. January had 12.5 inches and February less than an inch.

Last March was dry as was most of that year and got only eight inches of snow.

March is the second consecutive month with a surplus of rain and brings the 1965 surplus to about two and a half inches. February got an extra 1.56 inches of rain although January was about a third of an inch short.

Earthquake Shatters Dam, Buries Tiny Village Of 400 And Kills At Least 26 Others Elsewhere In Chile On Sunday

By JOSEPH BENHAM
SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — A massive earthquake rumbled across central Chile Sunday, shattering a dam that buried a village of 400 people under a deluge of mud and water. At least 26 others were killed elsewhere, hundreds were injured and thousands were left homeless.

Only eight villagers were known to have escaped when the 230-foot-high dam burst, cascading two million tons of mud and water on the copper-mining village of El Cobre, 80 miles north of Santiago.

Between 60 and 70 farmhouses and cottages were swept away by the torrent that thundered into the valley beneath the dam.

SAND, MUD, WATER

"It was like a gigantic wave, more than 100 feet high, made of sand, mud and water," said one survivor, Carlos Munchel. "It came on top of us, but I managed to run to a nearby hill."

MOUNT PROF FIGHTS CHANGE IN LITURGY

The Rev. Fr. Gommara A. De Pauw, professor of moral theology and canon law at Mt. St. Mary's Seminary, Emmitsburg, is heading a "Catholic Traditionalist Movement" seeking a halt to changes in the Roman Catholic liturgy, according to the New York Times.

The New York paper Sunday front page the story under the heading "Catholic Group Opposes Reform in Liturgy Voted by Rome Panel." The article follows:

The Catholic Traditionalist Movement has issued a manifesto deploring recent reforms in the church's liturgy and expressing alarm at what it describes as efforts to "Protestantize" Roman Catholic churches.

The manifesto opposes liturgical changes promulgated by the current Ecumenical Council in Rome. The council, known as Vatican II, is now in recess.

FIGHT VERNACULARISM

Specifically the traditionalist movement's manifesto calls for an end to "regimented" group participation in the Mass, a halt to "vernacularism"—celebration of parts of the Mass in English—and the recognition of Latin as the liturgical and theological language of the Catholic Church.

The liturgy reforms became official in the United States last November. They included congregational responses to the priest celebrating Mass, the singing of hymns and the celebration of the Mass from an altar facing the congregation.

There was some opposition at the time, mostly from older, conservative churchgoers. Since then, priests have on occasion cautioned their parishioners to bear with liturgical reform and accept it as an attempt to bring worshippers into an active, rather than passive participation in the services.

Pope Paul VI recently made a similar appeal. He urged patience and understanding until the liturgical changes became more familiar.

IS BELGIUM BORN

The leading influence in the traditionalist group is a Belgian-born priest, the Rev. Gommara A. De Pauw, professor of moral theology and canon law at Mt. St. Mary's Seminary, Emmitsburg, Md.

In an interview last week Father De Pauw said he was well aware of the "trouble" he might get into for opposing change, but he insisted he was acting in good conscience as a loyal churchman.

Both the movement and the manifesto, he said, grew out of a meeting of interested clergymen and laymen in New York last December. He did not say how many persons attended the meeting.

Father De Pauw agreed to serve as chairman of the movement's coordinating committee and to draw up a manifesto.

TEACHER IS SECRETARY

The loosely-organized movement has an executive secretary, Mrs. Gloria F. Cuneo, and a post office box. Mrs. Cuneo, a graduate of the College of New Rochelle, is a substitute teacher in both the public school system and parochial schools in New York.

A copy of the manifesto received by newspapers listed only Mrs. Cuneo as an officer of the movement. A letter to her resulted in the interview with Father De Pauw.

He said copies of the document had been sent to all United States bishops, the Roman Curia, the central administration of the (Continued on Page 3)

PLAYERS GIVE "MILK - HONEY" AT FULL HOUSE

Playing to crowded houses each evening the Owl and Nightingale Players of Gettysburg College Saturday evening presented for the third time the production of "Milk and Honey," a sprightly musical about life in modern Jerusalem. He has had previous experience in dramatics, having played in "West Side Story" for two years with Anna Maria Albergetti and last summer was dance captain for "Milk and Honey" with Molly Picon.

The assistant director was Dick Giachino, Teaneck, N. J., a senior English major, who plans to follow a theatrical career.

Middle St., who made his college stage debut in this production but whose previous experience includes four years at the Allenberry Playhouse, and Anne Giauque, a sophomore music major from Media, Pa. They handled their roles with professional flair, as did all the other members of the cast.

JEWISH WIDOW

Jessie Horrisberger, in the part of Clara Weiss, a Jewish widow tourist from the U.S., added much to the humor of the plot, particularly in her solo and dance number "Hymn to Hymie," her late husband. Adi and Zipporah, a young Jewish couple, played by Bruce Crave and Agnes Sanger, kept the (Continued on Page 3)

KICKOFF FOR CANCER DRIVE ON WEDNESDAY

The Adams County "nit of the American Cancer Society will hold its annual "kickoff" meeting for the April Crusade Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the board room at the Warner Hospital.

More than 50 captains in the county area have been sent notices to attend or send a representative to receive instructions on the education and solicitor programs.

More than 1,000 volunteers from business, industry and other active groups will take part in the crusade. All volunteers are welcome to attend Wednesday's meeting. Mrs. H. David Pitzer, county crusade chairman, said.

HAVE DOUBLE GOAL

On Wednesday Mrs. Pitzer will emphasize a "Tell Your Neighbor" theme to be used in training volunteers for the April crusade. Volunteers in their door-to-door bell ringing will hand out leaflets containing "life saving facts" about cancer and facts about the society's efforts to help conquer that disease.

According to the American Cancer Society, 92,000 men and women will die of cancer this year because they did not go to their doctor in time for early diagnosis and prompt treatment.

The goal of the "Tell Your Neighbor" theme, according to Mrs. Pitzer, is to persuade the American public of the importance of prompt diagnosis and treatment of cancer. "An annual health checkup will mean many thousands of lives saved from the disease," Mrs. Pitzer said.

"The other goal of the crusade in Adams County will be to raise $12,000 for research, education and service. Our only hope of saving one-half of those who now develop cancer is through the results of the research which is occupying an increasing number of scientists each year."

The civil rights movement also will expand shortly to the steel city of Birmingham, the port city of Mobile and to every town and hamlet in Alabama, said Bevel, who is one of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s top spokesmen.

Astronauts Get Gotham Welcome

NEW YORK (AP) — The skies were somber gray, but Broadway radiated a glow of its own today in honor of America's first buddies in travel.

Virgil I. Grissom and John W. Young took their bows as the city offered the fervent, flamboyant tributes of a nation. Although the weather was dark and drizzly, it was bright with banners, bands and cheers along Broadway—the "Street of Heroes"—as thousands saluted the Gemini astronauts.

Cloudbursts of torn paper outdid the rain as the pair rode through massed, applauding ranks. Umbrella shelters throngs lined the streetsides. Others filled skyscraper windows above.

It was the classic welcome, accorded to America's great throughout modern history.

SUSPECT BOY IN CAR THEFT

A youth who was arrested in Gettysburg March 16 with a stolen motor scooter is suspected as the person who stole a York auto which was found in Gettysburg Sunday.

According to the borough police report, Mark Eckart, 207 Springs Ave., called police Sunday to report that he had noticed a youth attempting to start a Thunderbird on Springs Ave., but who apparently was not familiar with how to raise its hood, etc.

The youth, according to police, abandoned his attempt before the officers arrived. Police found the license was in the name of Anna Hoke, York. Since the car was parked too far from the curb the officers were able to bring that charge, and towed the vehicle to the borough shed to await developments.

State police, who had been asked to investigate, reported to borough officers at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon that the car had been stolen from Robert Daryman, York, and the license plates from Anna Hoke of York.

At 5:40 o'clock the police learned that a 14-year-old boy had escaped from detention in York early Sunday morning. The youth's description tallied with the description of the youth who had been seen near the car on Springs Ave. The name of the youth was that of the boy police here had picked up on York St. two weeks ago with a stolen motor scooter and who had been turned over to York authorities.

Stewart's opinion was in a case specifically affecting American Ship Building Co.

Navy Planes From Carrier Blast Radar Areas In NVN

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Navy planes from the carrier Coral Sea bombed radar installations on North Viet Nam's Bach Long Island today.

There was no immediate word on the success of the raid, how many planes made it and whether there were any American casualties.

It was the second American raid on Bach Long, deep in the Gulf of Tonkin and the northernmost target since American and South Vietnamese planes began hitting North Viet Nam Feb. 7.

STOP SHIPPING
The Bach Long radar station was first hit last Friday, in the 12th attack on North Viet Nam. The island is about 140 miles southeast of Hanoi, 100 miles south of the Chinese mainland and 80 miles west of Hainan, a big Chinese island that is a base for MIG interceptors.

Six Japanese shipping firms decided today to halt sailing of their freighters to North Vietnamese ports because of increased risk to shipping in North Vietnamese waters. The six firms had 10 ships making monthly calls to North Viet Nam, hauling an annual total of about 500,000 tons of coal from North Viet Nam's Hongay mines to Japan.

KILL 24
A powerful Viet Cong unit smashed a government militia outpost 17 miles from the North Vietnamese border today, killing 24 defenders.

The Communists also wounded five of the defenders and captured one. Twenty-five weapons and a stock of ammunition were taken from the post. A U.S. Army helicopter crewman was reported wounded by Communist fire in central Viet Nam Sunday, and a U.S. Marine helicopter pilot, Capt. William D. Reynolds of Santa Ana, Calif., was killed during an operation 11 miles southwest of Da Nang, one of the U.S.-South Vietnamese air base for attacks on North Viet Nam.

MOVE TO STREETS

In Nogales, 85 miles north of Santiago, families moved from their shattered homes into the streets for the night.

Devastation was also reported in the towns of San Felipe, Los Nudes, La Ligua, Cabildo and Illapel, all north of the capital. In Santiago, one person was reported killed and about 40 injured as they fled from shaking buildings.

The quake, which registered 10 on the Richter scale of 12, sent avalanches of rocks and debris tumbling down Chile's Andean peaks.

NO PHONE SERVICE

The giant earth shocks knocked out telephone service north of Santiago and badly damaged power lines and radio transmitting equipment.

Cave-ins at a sandpit at Quilota, near Llay-Llay, trapped about 100 miners, but most escaped.

The copper-mining village of El Cobre was a scene of despair and desolation. Minister of Mines Eduard Simian said the area was devastated, covered with water and mud up to 25 feet deep.

Hundreds of soldiers were rushed in to help search for victims but after nightfall police suspended operations until morning. They said there was so little chance of finding anyone alive it was not worth the risk to rescue workers.

Police guarding the area appealed to weeping relatives not to venture into the sea of mud. Authorities said the only hope was for those who had managed to flee to high ground before the deluge crashed down on the valley.

8 IN FAMILY LOST

Juan Honorato, 12, sobbed to newsmen:

"My mother and my seven brothers were having lunch at home when I went out to hunt some rabbits," he said. "Now I will not see them again."

As he watched the avalanche from atop a slope, Juan said he was knocked off balance.

"It was as if someone was pushing me. An instant later I heard a great noise, then the village was gone," he said.

A father had walked with his daughter to La Calera, about 10 miles away, to visit his wife in a hospital. They returned to El Cobre and found a mass of mud where their house had been.

FELT FAR OFF

The daughter, Ana Faralane, said her brother, his wife and their six children also lived in the village.

Her father was sobbing too hard to give his name.

The quake was felt as far off as Buenos Aires, 700 miles east of Santiago. Chandeliers swayed in the Argentine capital and alarmed citizens called newspaper offices to ask what had happened.

formed the double-ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with white carnations. The organist, Miss Mae Wolf, accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Hazel Hoffman who sang "Always," "I'll Walk Beside You," "Because," "I Love You Truly," and "O, Perfect Love." Roger Trostle, cousin of the bridegroom was the acolyte.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of sheer white silk over taffeta. The scoop neckline was trimmed in embroidered lace. The gown featured an empire waistline and embroidered lace down the front panel of the full skirt, which ended in a chapel train. She carried white carnations on a white Bible with ivory streamers.

ON WEDDING TRIP

The maid of honor, Miss Diane Spangler, East Berlin, cousin of the bride, wore a floor-length blue gown of sheer silk over taffeta. The empire waist was trimmed in white and the sheath skirt ended in a floor-length train. She carried a nosegay of blue tinted carnations.

Kenton Taylor, York Springs, served as best man and the ushers were Fred Spangler, East Berlin, uncle of the bride, and Clair Trostle, York Springs, cousin of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother was attired in a blue sheath dress with black and white accessories. The groom's mother wore a navy blue suit with navy accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

Following a reception in the church social room, the couple left on a four-day wedding trip to Virginia. For traveling the bride chose a pink wool suit with navy blue accessories and wore pink carnations. Upon their return they will reside in York Springs.

The bride graduated from Bermudian Springs High School and is employed by the East Berlin Garment Company. The groom graduated from the same school and is employed by Doubleday and Co., Hanover.

NEW YORK (AP) — Rail merger candidates faded after showing some early strength and the stock market moved irregularly early this afternoon. Gains and losses of fractions to a point or so among key stocks peppered the list. Trading was moderately active.

Immediately following news that examiners of the Interstate Commerce Commission had recommended merger of the New York Central and Pennsylvania railroads, Central rose a point and a half and Pennsy a fraction.

church, and Pope Paul.

The Maryland priest said that the movement kept no formal membership lists, but that "several thousand" persons had been in touch with him since the manifesto was sent to the hierarchy.

He also declared that members of the movement made a spot check of reactions to liturgy reform and found 60 percent of those questioned "violently opposed," 20 percent favorable and 20 percent indifferent.

A spokesman for the Archdiocese of New York said he had heard of such a movement "somewhere in the Baltimore area" but knew nothing more about it.

GROUPS FORMED ABROAD

Father De Pauw remarked Sunday that similar opposition groups have been formed in Germany, France and Britain.

The manifesto emphasized that the Ecumenical Council, which will resume sessions later this year, had encouraged churchmen to express their opinion "on those things which concern the good of the church."

It went on to charge that the liturgical reforms were introduced without "the average Catholic man and woman being consulted" and that they were "rather subtly extorted from our bishops by a small minority in their ivory towers."

SEES PROTESTANT SCHEME

It acknowledged that part use of English in low Masses might have some spiritual advantage, but warned that "liturgical progressivism" could be the opening wedge toward a broader scheme to "Protestantize" the entire Roman Catholic church.

This was an obvious reference to some parishes that use traditional Lutheran hymns during the Mass.

The manifesto asked that Latin be made a mandatory subject in all Catholic high schools and "continue to be recognized as the liturgical and theological language of the Latin church and the supernatural sign of unity among Catholics of various nations and cultures."

It also urged that the "centuries-sanctioned liturgical Latin form of the Mass not be banned but, if not given full priority, at least be allowed to coexist with the new vernacular forms, so that priests and people be given full option and adequate opportunity to celebrate and assist at Mass in the traditional Latin form on Sundays as well as weekdays."

NO ACTUAL BAN

There is no actual ban on traditional forms, but in practice the bishops have subscribed to the new liturgical requirements in varying degree. The manifesto suggested that the study of Latin be permitted to "regain" its "place of honor" in seminaries. There has been some tendency to place Latin on a par with other non-theological courses.

$1,000 Damage In Midway Accident

Damage estimated at $1,000 resulted from an accident in front of 363 Third St., Midway, Saturday morning, according to Cone-wago Twp. police.

Police said the station wagon was split open from the back to the front, with damage estimated at $900. The truck, owned by the Vedder Oil Co., New Oxford, was damaged to the extent of $100, police said.

BIDS ON SHORTWAY

HARRISBURG (AP) — Construction on 55 miles of Interstate 80—the Keystone Shortway — will get underway this year, according to the Highways Department.

Forty-three additional miles will be opened to traffic. This, along with 49 miles already in use, will give motorists 92 miles of useable highway by the end of 1965, the department said in a weekend statement.

The manifesto ended with the request that "our priests continue to live in celibacy and to wear their distinctive black street clothing with Roman collar, while our sisters introduce only those dress changes that will still allow their uniform to remain indicative of their special dedicated position among God's people."

LET CONTRACT FOR BATHHOUSE AT TANEYTOWN

A bid of $99,500 to construct a bathhouse at the Taneytown community swimming pool has been accepted by the executive committee, E. E. Stuller Construction Co., Taneytown, submitted the low bid to build the 60-foot by 22-foot structure of unpainted cement blocks with separate dressing and toilet facilities for men and women. A small foyer provides entrances to each section and an office measuring 12 by 13½ feet separates the men's and women's areas.

The Stuller Company's bid included all bathroom plumbing and fixtures and other requirements per specifications.

Plans for the bathhouse were prepared by the Ira C. Rigger Company, general contractors for the swimming pool, with slight revisions by the executive committee.

Other bidders were: Perry Building Co., Taneytown, $7,380, excluding plumbing, George L. Harner, plumbing contractor, submitted a separate bid on the plumbing for $33,268. No electrical work was included in any of the bids per the committee's specifications. Donald Wantz, Taneytown electrical contractor, had previously been authorized by the committee to perform the electrical work in recognition of his pledge to donate a major part of the service. Water and sewerage will be provided by council.

Construction of the bathhouse will begin as soon as the necessary permits are obtained. The swimming pool and bathhouse will be opened to the public May 29. Groundbreaking ceremonies will be held April 5 at 10 a.m.

His remains were interred on Saturday last in the Catholic Burial Ground, attended by the Gettysburg Beneficial Association, and a large number of sorrowing relatives and friends.

Today's TalkTHE IMPORTANT "MISS"

People remember the evil that one does far longer than they do the good. The one "miss" stands out. The popular ball player is wildly applauded when he makes a home run — but is often jaded when he strikes out.

In a little book of wise saying I once came across this sentence: "Be more careful not to miss once than to hit a hundred times." The "miss" is always important because it may mean the failure of the following hundred hits!

The encouragement that we miss giving to someone who may sorely need it, often results in the failure of that one. The things that we miss often make all the difference in the world, changing the course of our lives — for good or ill. The missed stitch leaves a weak spot behind. The tailor knows that he must not miss the knot in his thread.

The inspector of machines in an important industry notes a slight flaw — but lets it pass, not realizing that this flaw might mean the difference between life and death. That one miss may spell tragedy. It is always important not to miss!

How many will recall the time in school when an examination was given and the one question missed was the one we failed to look up or review. It is said that Napoleon stated that the reason why he beat the Austrians was that they did not know the value of five minutes. Missed minutes mount big in an emergency. Too late has closed the door to many a career.

When you are driving a nail and you hit your finger a smash instead, that "miss" takes on significance! It is the same in our daily lives when we miss out on the smaller tasks, thinking them unimportant, only later to learn that they are the stepping stones to significant steps that lead to high ground and worthy ends.

Nothing is insignificant that is important. How many there are who say, "This neglect won't matter." But all neglects matter! They unbalance the scale.

ABOUT REDUCING
At keeping the fat from the body's interior
An expert declares that the man is superior.

Though the figures she reads on the scale may have shocked her,
Woman asks for advice, but won't follow her doctor.

When man finds his belt is beginning to tighten,
And the doctor suggests that his intake he lighten,
Though he likes apple pie with ice cream to adorn it,
With will power that's greater than woman's, he'll scorn it.

When middle age flesh is beginning to fret us,
A woman will rabbit-like nibble lettuce,
But she is more apt, if a dishful be handy,
To yield to temptation and fill up on candy.

On a diet the anguish of hunger to suffer,
It seems of the sexes the male is the tougher;
The braver, perhaps, as a moderate eater,
But woman, God bless her! is surely the sweeter.

Last Saturday the ten-year-old boy of Mr. William C. Storrick of Straban township, met with a peculiar and dangerous accident. The little fellow secured a hatchet and began to chop down a dead peach tree which was on the place. The tree, weakened by the cutting, was suddenly blown down by a gale of wind raging at the time, threw the boy against an adjoining stone wall and fell across his throat, nearly strangling him, before help could arrive. When the mother arrived the child was black in the face and unconscious and remained in that condition for six hours. Dr. Felty was called in and we are glad to state the patient is recovering as rapidly as could be expected.

ASKS RUSSIANS TO FREE JEWS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Some 5,000 persons attended a rally protesting anti-Semitism in the Soviet Union Sunday and heard Philip M. Klutznick, a former U.S. Ambassador to the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations, ask the Russians to "let the people go."

Klutznick called upon the Soviet Union to permit Jews who wish to do so to emigrate to other countries.

The rally, sponsored by the Greater Philadelphia Committee to Protest Soviet Anti-Semitism, adopted a resolution protesting the plight of the Soviet Jews and planned to present it to Soviet officials in New York and Washington.

Meanwhile in Washington, Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., charged the State Department with what he called "shirking its responsibility" in acting on anti-Semitism in the Soviet Union.

The State Department, in a letter from Douglas MacArthur II, assistant secretary of state for congressional relations, had told Scott it "does not believe that formal, government-to-government protests over the situation of the Soviet Jewish community are in the best interests of Soviet Jews," but he encouraged private individuals and organizations in that area.

Scott, in a statement Saturday, said, "I disagree emphatically."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Paul Douglas has called upon labor leaders to help defeat congressional efforts to modify the one man-one vote decision of the Supreme Court.

The Illinois Democrat said: "The Supreme Court decision ordering the reapportionment on a population basis of both houses of the state legislature is the new Magna Carta of representative government in the United States."

Douglas gave his view in remarks prepared for a conference sponsored by the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers.

Bavaro Bows In Title Bout In Overtime Split Decision; Welcomed Home By Throng

A referee's decision was the hairline difference between being the nation's number one college wrestler and being the nation's second best for Gettysburg College's Joe Bavaro, 147-pounder.

Bavaro lost an overtime split decision to Veryl Long of Iowa State in the finals of the National Collegiate Athletic Association wrestling tournament at the University of Wyoming, Laramie, Wyo., Saturday night before a capacity crowd of 10,500 fans.

The modest, soft-spoken Bavaro gained the right to enter the championship round by defeating Mark Scuyman, Army, 8-5; Bill Blackman, Lock Haven, 2-36 overtime pin, and Jim Crider, Colorado State, 6-58 pin. Long, who finished second in the Big Eight tournament this year, entered the final bout on decisions over Loren Miller, San Jose State, 2-1; Lee Detrick, Michigan, 2-0; Nash Tillman, Adams State, 2-1, and Buzz Hays, Arizona State, 3-2.

GOT GOOD START

Bavaro jumped to a 4-0 lead over Long in the first two periods of their title match. The Bulletin ace thought he had an extra point via a near fall, but instead received two on a reversal. In the third period Long received an escape and then took Bavaro down with "the quickest takedown I've ever seen," the Bulletin ace said. Just as the final buzzer sounded the official awarded two points to Long for a predicament forcing the Iowa into a 5-4 lead. However, Bavaro had built up some riding time and the regulation bout ended in a 5-5 tie. The two men battled for four minutes with neither gaining a single point.

The NCAA rules state that three officials must then decide the winner. Two officials gave the verdict to Long, one for Bavaro.

Bavaro and his coach, Ray Reider, returned home Sunday evening at 7:33 to a reception given to very few individuals and teams in the history of the school. Hundreds of fans jammed the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity area to join in the reception. Included among the group were college and high school students, faculty members and a large number of townspeople. In a brief statement before the throng, Bavaro said, "This is probably the happiest moment of my life. I only wish I could have brought back the title with me, for you."

FAIR DECISION

Later in the evening, Bavaro said, "Strength was the main factor. Long was extremely strong and I feel the decision by the officials was a fair one. Coach Reider and I had watched Long earlier in the tournament and we knew something of his strength and weaknesses. One thing I did wrong was to let up too soon too early. I had him 4-0 and figured that even if I did let him go he would get only one point. I had to stay away from him the remainder of the match. I received a shock when he hit me with the quickest takedown I've ever seen. That was also the first time I have ever been stretched on my back."

Bavaro concluded, "If I had it to do all over again, I would still use the same strategy as I did Saturday night."

Iowa State walked off with the overall team title collecting 87 points and upsetting defending champion Oklahoma State who battled down to the wire with 83 points. As a team, Bavaro gave Gettysburg, 12 points, good for a 12th place tie with Penn State.

DOUBLE BILL IN RING AT GARDEN TUESDAY NIGHT

NEW YORK (AP)—Champions Willie Pastrano, who once flunked gym, and Emile Griffith, who once made ladies' hats for a living, are favored to defend their titles against a couple of guys named Joe on Tuesday night in a Madison Square Garden championship double-header.

Pastrano, the light-heavyweight champ from Miami, is a thin 6-5 5 favorite over Jose Torres of New York. Griffith, a native of the Virgin Islands now living in New York, is a solid 2-1 choice to defend his welterweight crown against Jose Stable, a Cuban refugee now living in New York.

ON THEATER TV

Each fight is scheduled for 15 rounds, with the Griffith-Stable bout going on first, at 9:30 p.m. EST. The light-heavy fight will follow immediately.

Each is scheduled for theater television coverage with Theater Network Television Inc. beaming the bouts to 86 locations in the United States and Canada.

Torres has a 34-1-1 record, including 25 knockouts. His only defeat was a fifth-round knockout at the hands of Florentino Fernandez in Puerto Rico May 26, 1963. He has won eight straight since.

Stable has a 25-2-1 record, including nine knockouts. He has never been stopped, and has a string of nine straight victories.

Pastrano, 29-year-old native of New Orleans where he once failed his gym class at Warren Easton High School, has a 62-12-8 record going back to 1951.

Griffith, 27, who had a job in a ladies' hat factory when he first came to the U.S., goes into his 11th welter title bout. He has an 8-2 record in championship competition, is the only man to win the welter crown three times and has a 43-5 over-all record.

The Lafayette coach told of his experiences as a member of the St. Louis Cardinals baseball team when he was a teammate of William "Wee Willie" Sherdel, McSherrystown, who was among the guests. He classified Sherdel as one of the best little left-handed pitchers to ever perform in the National League and recalled the 1926 World Series in which Sherdel lost 2-1 and 3-2, the latter in 10 innings, to the Yankees.

Gelbert also made mention of the late Grantland Rice's article in which he termed Sherdel the outstanding player in the series which included the likes of Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Bill Dickey and Herb Pennock.

J. T. Flaherty, athletic director and coach at Delone, introduced the three squads in groups and praised them for their sportsmanship and fine play during the past seasons.

AWARDS PRESENTED

Felix, on behalf of the Boosters Club, presented a plaque to Coach Flaherty and an award to Jim Roth who became the first Delone player in history this year to score over 1,000 points in his three-year career while leading the Squires to the Central Pennsylvania Catholic League title.

Alex Bell, head football coach at Villanova and a former coach at Delone, introduced Jack Kraft, the head coach of Villanova's basketball squad.

Kraft spoke of the hardships of an athlete completing his schooling today, stressing that he must earn his passing marks. After a day of classes, the athlete must practice and then finish his busy day with studying. Kraft also related some of his experiences as a coach of the Wildcats.

Rev. Fr. O'Connor closed the program by stating athletes must show the way for other students because they are looked up to as athletes and they must be honest and sincere.

The invocation and benediction were given by Rev. Fr. O'Connor. Organ selections were presented by Mrs. Leona Klunk. The Delone cheerleaders gave several local numbers, accompaniments for which were played by Sheila McKim.

DELONE TEAMS HONORED BY BOOSTER CLUB

Delone Catholic High School's football, basketball and baseball squads were honored Saturday evening at the first annual all sports banquet of the Delone Booster Club which was held in the Sacred Heart Basilica hall at Conewago.

Addresses by Charley Gelbert, head baseball coach at Lafayette College, and Jack Kraft, Villanova basketball coach, highlighted the program which also included awards to the Delone athletes.

Norbert Felix, president of the Booster Club, welcomed the guests and introduced Rev. Fr. Patrick O'Connor, chaplain at Delone, as the master of ceremonies.

Area high school coaches and players were introduced prior to the talk by Gelbert.

The Lafayette coach told of his experiences as a member of the St. Louis Cardinals baseball team when he was a teammate of William "Wee Willie" Sherdel, McSherrystown, who was among the guests. VEZINA TROPHY FOR SAWCHUK

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Toronto's Terry Sawchuk, who has captured the National Hockey League's Vezina Trophy in absentia, wants to share the credit — and the wealth — with his Maple Leaf goalie cronie, Johnny Bower.

If Bower happens to get short-changed when the hardware is handed out, he can cry all the way to the bank.

The Toronto tandem nailed hockey's top goalie prize in the last game of the regular season when 40-year-old Bower blanked Detroit's league champions 4-0 Sunday night. That margin gave Sawchuk and Bower a 173-175 edge over the Red Wings and rookie Roger Crozier in goals allowed over the season.

The Vezina Trophy—and an accompanying bonus of $1,000—goes to the goalie who plays the most games for the team least scored upon. Bower had a better goals-against average than Sawchuk but played in only 34 games, two less than Terry.

The Toronto pair agreed earlier to divide the cash if they won and Sawchuk said recently he would not accept the trophy unless Bower's name also was inscribed on it. The league, however, says Sawchuk's name will be the only one on the trophy.

Nominate Today For Frick's Job

BELLEFAIRE, Pa. (AP)—Major league club owners were expected to get their first glimpse today at the names of the candidates in the early running to succeed Ford Frick as commissioner of baseball next fall.

The 20 owners, who had submitted their nominations in sealed envelopes, were due to meet in a joint session.

Frick, who became commissioner in September 1951, already has announced his retirement to take effect at the conclusion of the 1965 World Series.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Thaddeus Jamison, 19, and Antonio Velasquez, 22, were held without bail Sunday in the fatal shooting of Carlos Rodriguez after a quarrel in a North Philadelphia bar early Saturday. The two face further hearings April 4.

James Buchanan was the only life-long bachelor to be president of the U.S.

EASTON, Pa. (AP)—W. Hunt Dumont, son of State Sen. Wayne Dumont of New Jersey, is engaged to Miss Jean Alice Metzendorf, her parents have announced. She is a graduate of Easton High School and Pennsylvania State University. Dumont graduated from Blair Academy and Lafayette College and is attending Seton Hall School in Newark.

Spring Training Starts At PSU

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Spring training starts Saturday for the Penn State football squad.

Rip Engle will be starting his 16th season as coach of the Nittany Lions. He guided the team to a 6-4 record and the Lambert Trophy last season.

Engle will be faced with filling 13 slots created by graduation. These include vacancies left by middle guard Glenn Ressler, quarterback Gary Wydman and fullback Tom Urbanik.

Penn state will drill 20 days. The annual Blue-White intrasquad game has been set tentatively for May 8.

DICK HART IS WINNER IN AZALEA OPEN

By KEN ALTYA

Associated Press Sports Writer WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP)—The Dick Hart golfing family, its bank roll enriched by $5,150, piled into a trailer today with its destination uncertain.

Hart, a 28-year-old club professional from Hinsdale, Ill., had intended to head back to his club job after finishing his sixth winter golf tour. But winning the Azalea Open Tournament in an eight-hole sudden-death playoff Sunday with Phil Rodgers may change things.

Hart, who has been a pro for 10 years, entered the $65,000 Greater Greensboro, N.C., Open Tournament which starts Thursday, after he outlasted Rodgers in their marathon duel.

TOPS HIS GOAL

He and his wife have two children.

Hart has played the last six winter tours, with his goal to win about $3,000 a year to meet expenses.

He came here a bit shy of that figure, having won $2,015 since joining the tour at Los Angeles in January. But he won $3,850 by beating Rodgers, and his fourth-round 69 was worth $300 in bonus money for the day's low round. He and Bill Martinale, who also had a 69, shared the special $600 jackpot.

PROBLEMS OF BIGNESS
If Universities Grow Too Large
What Is The Optimum Size?

AT BERKELEY, Calif., a university professor was asked by students trying to crash a faculty committee meeting. In exasperation he arose and told his colleagues: "I've had my fill of students."

This incident is reminiscent of a Regular Army lieutenant colonel at Fort Leavenworth just before World War II. He thought the Army would be wonderful if there were no enlisted men to worry about. When I returned from Europe at war's end, I failed to find his name on a promotion list. At the same time, he was a most scholarly student of his profession.

There is an old saying: "Knowledge is power." But in human affairs, there are times when mere knowledge alone is not enough.

ALONG THE SAME LINE, a science professor in New York City is reported as complaining that in the good old days he had 10 or 12 students in his physics course. They became friends. He knew them all and their capabilities.

Now he has 60 students in the same course. The door to his office is always open. Only six take advantage of this special invitation. "They are the same six all year. The others I don't see and don't know."

It is a self-indictment. He is unwittingly admitting that it took a mass invasion of the campus for him to find out that 10 percent of the students in a large student body are sufficiently curious and eager for learning that they will go in and take it away from a professor they think is holding out on them.

He should be asking himself: "In addition to leaving my door open, what can I do toward stimulating the curiosities and motivating the interests of the 90 percent?"

Nevertheless, it can be noted in his defense that many of his colleagues are not even keeping office hours and leaving the door open.

THESE ATTITUDES, combined with the professional farming out of all the drudgery of teaching to their assistants and section hands, with which go practically all the undergraduate student contacts, explain much of the student criticism of the oversize campuses of our great universities.

Even so, the turbulence on such campuses as that at Berkeley, is not from within the student body as a whole. Stimulation is often from off campus. The resulting demonstrations are but little more than the froth upon the mug of wholesome institutional life not immediately visible to those who merely contemplate the mug.

The dramatic fact is that 1,600 students, doing a "massive sit-in" at Berkeley, attract nationwide attention, but it should not obscure the presence of 25,000 other students on the same campus going about their class, library and laboratory work on a more-or-less study-as-usual basis; thus doing their best to learn the most in a difficult situation.

Every symptom in the situation clearly indicates that the problem of impersonal bigness is at the root of most criticisms of our too large institutions.

MEANWHILE, Dr. Nathan M. Pusey, president of Harvard, in a recent address to alumni in the Chicago area, viewed the size problem with growing concern.

He outlined steps already taken toward more personal understanding between faculty members and students. In essence, it is an effort toward smallness by fragmentation of his university into lesser units. Harvard's enrollment is now held to less than 12,000 many of whom are in graduate courses and research.

Today there is similar increasing talk of an "optimum size" for a university. There is not full agreement as to what the term means. One university president said his optimum size is usually 5,000 more students than he now has. In this case there is an obvious confusion of optimum with optimism.

If Dr. Pusey is worrying about bigness at Harvard, one might well assume that the optimum size in his thinking is somewhere between 8,000 and 14,000.

That leaves open the question as to what institutions should attempt to duplicate Harvard. How many, if any, should accept Hofstra or Colgate as a pattern?

It is not likely that the optimum size figure would be identical for any two institutions. Each would have to be evaluated in terms of its own patronage, purposes, fiscal support, existing plant, costs for desired expansion or changes compared to other alternatives. These factors are seldom identical for any two colleges or universities, even within the same state and operating under the same board of regents.

The novel duo provides bangs that snap onto the underside of a triangular scarf. Thus you can cater in a trice to your every color mood—wear blond bangs in the sunlight, red bangs in the sunset, and a brunet job at night-fall.

As scarves are variously colored, from pure white through hot pink to siren black, effects are yours to command. Just try red bangs with a hot pink scarf and watch the fireworks of admiration.

Not incidentally, these bangs are washable, settable and flame-proof. Scarves have a nonslip feature, which makes for a stay-put drape whether your favorite tie is in front or in back.

Doctors Worried About Cardinal

CHICAGO (AP) — Physicians today expressed concern over the somewhat deteriorated condition of Albert Cardinal Meyer, 62-year-old archbishop of Chicago, who has developed a blood clot in his left leg.

The prelate, who underwent surgery for removal of a malignant brain tumor Feb. 25, no longer responds to questions asked by Mercy Hospital nurses and visitors, a hospital spokesman said.

The blood clot was discovered in Cardinal Meyer's left leg Saturday. A spokesman said that further surgery was not contemplated.

SAYS ASTROS TO BE BETTER THIS SEASON

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer
COCOA, Fla. (AP) — Lum Harris is not the reticent type, but there is not much he can talk about when the subject is the Houston Astros.

There's good pitching, pretty fair defense and the magnificent new dome stadium in Houston. But aside from that the man who succeeded Harry Craft as the Astros manager can offer little in the way of newness.

"It's the same old story with our club," Harris said. "Good pitching and defense and short on punch."

HAS HOPES

There was more hope than resignation in Harris' voice, however.

"I think we will be better," he said. "How much, I don't know. A great deal will depend on our young players, like Joe Morgan, Ron Brand, Rusty Staub and Jim Wynn."

Morgan, a 5-foot-7 speed merchant who was voted the Texas League's Most Valuable Player last year, is expected to replace Nellie Fox at second base. Brand, a $25,000 draftee from the Pittsburgh organization, apparently is the No. 1 catcher. Wynn and Staub will open the season in center and right field, respectively.

Morgan batted .323, hit 12 homers and 42 doubles, and drove in 90 runs at Oklahoma City. And he stole 47 bases.

SAME MOUND STAFF

Al Spangler, a good defensive performer with little power, will be in left field for the fourth straight season. John Bateman and Jerry Grote will support Brand behind the plate. Mike White, Bob Lillis, Ernie Fazio and Jim Beauchamp are the reserves. Fox, now a coach, may return to active duty.

"As far as our pitching is concerned, we have virtually the same cast," said Harris. "It was good last year but it could be better because of our improved defense."

"I think it is possible for our club to win 15 more games. That would bring us up to a .500 percentage and we could go on from there."

Bob Bruce, Ken Johnson, Dick Farrell and Don Nottebart continue as the front four. Don Larsen will be used as a spot starter. Jim Owens, Hal Woodeshick and Claude Raymond make up the bullpen.

PSU Gymnasts Go Into Finals

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Next stop for the Penn State gymnastics team is Carbondale, Ill., this weekend where the Nittany Lions will compete in the NCAA gymnastics finals.

Penn State became a finalist Saturday night by defeating Southern Illinois, the defending national champion, 66.5-53.5. Penn State will face Washington in the finals.

Penn State advanced its season record to 10 victories in as many meets. It halted a Southern Illinois dual-meet winning streak at 39. That streak was over a five-year period.

76ERS TAKE PLAYOFF EDGE

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Philadelphia 76ers do not necessarily need prolific scoring from Wilt Chamberlain. Neither does the so-called disadvantage of playing on an opponent's floor bother them.

The 7-foot-1 Chamberlain scored just 17 points Sunday, but still led his team to an impressive 108-94 victory over the Cincinnati Royals in their semifinal playoffs in the National Basketball Association.

The victory gave Philadelphia a 2-1 edge in the best-of-5 Eastern Division series. The fourth game will be played in Philadelphia Wednesday night and the 76ers can wrap up the series with a victory. Both of Philadelphia's victories, however, have been here.

Baltimore also needs only one more victory to win the best-of-5 Western Division semifinals from the St. Louis Hawks. The Bullets moved into a 2-1 edge with a crushing 131-99 victory over the Hawks at Baltimore Saturday night. The Bullets-Hawks fourth game will be Tuesday night in Baltimore.

WEST WINS IN ALL-STAR TILT ON SATURDAY

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — If

the professional scouts who watched Saturday's East-West College All-Star basketball game were impressed, it probably was by performers who are too small by pro standards.

Guards Flynn Robinson of Wyoming and All-America Gail Goodrich of UCLA brought the West from 11 points behind in the second half to an 87-74 victory.

The 6-foot-1, 170-pound Goodrich scored 20 points and was named the game's most valuable player, but it was Robinson, 6-1, 190, who ignited the West-ers.

The East, with Billy Cunningham of North Carolina leading the way, had opened up a 65-54 lead with about 14 minutes left in the game. Then Robinson replaced Oregon State's Jim Jarvis in the West line-up.

The Wyoming star and Goodrich each hit three field goals and Robinson added a free throw as the West reeled off 17 straight points in the next four minutes. Robinson's steal and a pass to the wide-open Goodrich with three minutes left produced the basket which iced the game at 81-66.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Ku Klux Klan Gains New Life From Civil Rights Movement In South; Membership Grows

By AUSTIN SCOTT

NEW YORK (AP) — The Ku Klux Klan, a sprawling giant of the 1920's that nearly choked to death two decades later on its own violent dedication to "Americanism," is getting new life from the growing civil rights movement in the South.

Dr. David M. Chalmers, a University of Florida professor and author of a new book on the Klan's secret world of mystic rituals, strange passwords and hooded violence, argues that a decaying Klan was given new "impetus and environment for action" by two events:

The Supreme Court's May 17, 1954, decision outlawing public school segregation, and the sit-ins, freedom rides and mass demonstrations of the early 1960's.

35,000 MEMBERS

A number of other observers have pointed to a very recent rise in Klan membership, now believed to number 30,000 to 35,000 active Klansmen with up to 20,000 active sympathizers, mainly in the Deep South.

Klan officials say their influence has been increasing steadily since the current civil rights struggle began. James Venable, Atlanta attorney and imperial wizard of the National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, estimates growth at 10,000 to 12,000 new members a month.

"WEEDS OUT" HOODLUMS

"We try to weed out undesirable, our purpose is not to collect hoodlums," Venable said. "We're trying to get the sweat-box people in. Educated people have been brainwashed into believing in brotherly love — in peaceful coexistence."

Chalmers says in his book, "Hooded Americanism," which is to be published by Doubleday, that one inherent defect in Klan structure that may have prevented it from becoming even more of an influence is the impossibility of controlling the actions of individual branches.

BORN OF PRANK

Today's Klan, actually a number of separate Klans, has most influence in small cities and rural areas, usually those with a high percentage of Negroes.

But 40 years ago, it was a giant of four million members that elected governors and senators, both in the North and South.

BORN OF PRANK

Born as a society of playful pranks and mystic initiations in 1865, one year after the Civil War ended, the Klan soon turned to a major role in the overthrow of carpetbag state governments in the South and the restoration of white supremacy.

By 1871, the estimated 550,000 Klansmen disappeared as a formal organization. President Ulysses S. Grant, under the Ku Klux Klan Act of 1871, suspended the writ of habeas corpus in nine South Carolina counties, and thousands of Klansmen were arrested.

REVIVED IN 1915

Another Klan did not appear until 1915, when the organization was resurrected on top of Stone Mountain, Ga., with the burning of a cross and an oath of allegiance to the "invisible empire of the Ku Klux Klan."

By 1924, it had become a national political power, with four million members dedicated to opposing not only Negroes, but Catholics, Jews, and anyone who was not a native-born, Anglo-Saxon Protestant.

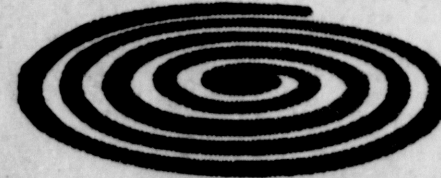

But, by the beginning of the depression, the Klan's power and glory were gone in the North and West.

The third Ku Klux Klan revival was organized in Atlanta late in World War II by an Atlanta obstetrician, Dr. Samuel Green. It had a brief period of activity, but splintered after Green's death in 1949.

Dr. Gordon S. Seagrave, 68, "Burma Surgeon," Expires

By PETER BOOG
RANGOON, Burma (AP) — Dr. Gordon S. Seagrave will be buried Wednesday at the Burmese hill hospital to which he devoted his life. The famed "Burma surgeon" died there Sunday at the age of 68.

Burma's top heart specialist, Dr. Ronald Lwin, flew to Seagrave's bedside at the village of Namkham, 800 miles north of here, when the U.S. Embassy reported him critically ill last Wednesday. The embassy said Seagrave was suffering from a number of ailments, including a weak heart.

"I arrived there too late," Lwin said. "His heart was failing and his general condition was very bad."

10,000 as out-patients. It was the only medical facility for 400,000 persons in the area.

LONG RETREAT

During World War II, Seagrave put his hospital at the disposal of Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell and was commissioned a major in the U.S. Army Medical Corps.

When the Japanese drove Stilwell out of Burma, Seagrave made the long retreat to India with him.

The Japanese destroyed his hospital, but Seagrave returned in 1949 to rebuild it, designing and constructing many of the cobblestone and cement buildings himself.

KEEP DEATH WATCH

Seagrave lay in his sparsely furnished room, dressed in faded blue pajamas, on a narrow bed near a window. Nearby was an easy chair and in a corner the desk where he wrote his best-selling "Burma Surgeon."

While Seagrave's American assistant, Dr. Joseph Newhall, and the Burmese nurses labored in vain to save the old doctor, hundreds of villagers kept a grief-stricken death watch on the hospital grounds.

His son Sterling telegraphed the embassy in Rangoon: "Seagrave expired 0230GMT Sunday - 9:30 p.m. EST Saturday - with his hospital staff at his side."

SONS WITH DAD

"He slipped peacefully into death," said Dr. Lwin.

Sterling and another son, John, were with their father. His wife got the news in Baltimore, Md., where she is a secretary at a private boys' school. She left Burma in 1949 with serious recurrent malaria and never saw her husband again.

"He feared the trip to the United States," Mrs. Seagrave said Sunday. "He feared something would happen on the trip."

The doctor once said: "The only way I can prove that I mean everything I ever said to the Burmese is that I die right here in Burma."

BORN IN BURMA

Seagrave was born in Burma March 18, 1897. His death ended 135 unbroken years of service to Burma by four generations of the family. None of his four sons entered the missionary field.

After taking his medical degree from Johns Hopkins University, he returned with his 21-year-old wife to the village of Namkham, five miles from the Chinese border. From a rotting wood building, Seagrave built a 22-building hospital with 250 beds.

It cared for 5,000 patients a year and treated an additional

WORLD COURT IS URGED AGAIN BY MUSMANNO

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Judge Michael A. Musmanno of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, in Frankfurt to testify in the trial of former Nazi guards and officials of the Auschwitz death camp, has renewed his call for the establishment of a world court with jurisdiction to punish and prevent crimes against humanity.

Musmanno, a former judge at the Nuernberg war crimes trials, said he feels the world court should be a "project of itself" rather than an extension of the International Court of Justice at the Hague, which does not deal with criminal cases.

He suggested that an international police force be the marshal of the court.

SHOULD BE COURT

One international figure that should come before this court, he said, is president Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic, because he is "constantly threatening to destroy Israel and all its inhabitants."

"These threats endanger the peace of the world because the Middle East is a powder keg," Musmanno said in a statement.

"Therefore there should be a court to hail him before the bar of justice and order him to put up bail to preserve the peace or otherwise be clapped into jail until he does so."

"International peace can only become reality when the world is governed by law through the medium of world court," the Pennsylvania justice added.

GIRL INJURED IN CYCLE CRASH

HARRISBURG (AP)—A Harrisburg girl, injured Sunday in a traffic accident involving a motorcycle, a state police car, a station wagon and a car, was listed in unsatisfactory condition today.

Alice Marie Rula, 16, was admitted to Harrisburg Hospital following the accident on Front Street. She was riding on a motorcycle which police said was stolen.

The operator of the motorcycle, Edward M. Brooks, 19, of Enola, Pa., was charged by police with larceny of a motor vehicle and larceny of a license plate.

Brooks was slightly injured. He was remanded to Cumberland County Prison without bail because of a parole violation, patrolman Ronald M. McCoy of Hampden Twp. said.

Mrs. Dorothy Ettline of Camp Hill, near Harrisburg, was treated for a minor injury. She was riding in a station wagon operated by her husband, Kenneth.

DEAD WOMAN'S FAMILY STAYS IN SECLUSION

By GENE SCHROEDER
DETROIT (AP) — The grieving family of an assassinated civil rights sympathizer remained in seclusion today as gestures of sympathy poured in from dignitaries and little people.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey visited on Sunday the home of the slain Viola Gregg Liuzzo, 39-year-old mother of five who was killed on a dark Alabama highway last week.

EXTENDED SYMPATHY

A spokesman for the family said Humphrey expressed condolences on behalf of both himself and President and Mrs. Johnson to Anthony Liuzzo, 51, and the children.

Charles (Chuck) O'Brien, a Teamsters Union business agent and friend of the family, told newsmen that Humphrey "then went over and hugged little Sally, who was crying."

"She can't understand why her mother was killed," said O'Brien.

Sally, 6, was one of three girls and two boys left motherless by the murder of Mrs. Liuzzo. Four members of the Ku Klux Klan have been charged in federal court in connection with the slaying.

MANY TRIBUTES

O'Brien said money and carloads of floral offerings have been pouring in from across the nation.

Humphrey, in Detroit to accept a pharmaceutical award, was the last of several dignitaries who paid their respects to the family Sunday. He was accompanied by former Gov. John Swainson, now Democratic national committeeman for Michigan.

Gov. George Romney stopped at the house Saturday and compared Mrs. Liuzzo to the French martyr, Joan of Arc. Both died for what they believed in, he said.

Requiem Mass has been scheduled for Tuesday morning at Immaculate Heart of Mary Church, with burial to be in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

LBJ TO HONOR AFRICAN CHIEF

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maurice Yameogo, the pro-Western president of the little republic of Upper Volta in the heart of West Africa, arrives today for a state visit with President Johnson.

The red-carpet welcome for the African leader will include a state dinner tonight at the White House, with 35 American Indian dancers from 14 tribes providing entertainment. Yameogo has had a strong interest in American Indians.

The 44-year-old Yameogo and his wife were to fly to Washington by helicopter from Williamsburg, Va. They arrived in the restored colonial capital Sunday night following a flight from Africa in a U.S. Air Force jet.

During their two days here, they will stay at Blair House, the President's guest house. They leave Wednesday on a week's tour of the United States. Upper Volta has no diplomatic relations with either the Soviet Union or Red China.

DEATHS

MILTON, Mass. (AP) — Dr. Alexander Forbes, 82, physiologist, geographer and grandson of Ralph Waldo Emerson, died Saturday. Dr. Forbes had taught at Harvard University and at the University of Liverpool.

BEARS CLINCH SECOND PLACE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Baltimore's bid for a second-place finish in the American Hockey League's Eastern Division died Sunday — at about the same time the Clippers were burying Rochester hopes for an all-time AHL victory record.

Roger DeJordy's goal with 1:37 to play in sudden death overtime gave Hershey a 4-3 victory over Springfield in a regular-season finale Sunday night and enabled the Bears to shade Baltimore by a single point, 77-76, in the race for runner-up honors behind Quebec's Eastern champions.

The Clippers, meanwhile, edged Rochester 6-5, leaving the Western Division champion Americans one victory short of the season record of 49 set by Springfield four years ago.

The Amers' 15-game home winning streak, goalie Gerry Cheevers' season-long iron-man stint and Bronco Horvath's drive for the individual scoring championship also ended in the loss to Baltimore.

In other Sunday wind-ups, Buffalo exploded for seven goals in the third period — four in one minute, 59 seconds — and trounced hapless Providence 10-5 while Quebec and Pittsburgh played to a 2-2 overtime tie.

Hershey had passed Baltimore Saturday by beating Rochester 3-2 while Pittsburgh whipped the Clippers 5-1. Elsewhere Saturday it was Cleveland over Quebec 3-1 and Buffalo over Springfield 6-0.

SAARI LEADS TROJANS TO THIRD TITLE

By RON SPEER

Associated Press Sports Writer
AMES, Iowa (AP) — Teenage domination of swimming in recent years has made has been out of a lot of young champions.

But Southern California's Roy Saari is determined not to be shunted aside for several years. "I'm still improving," the 20-year-old king of the National Collegiate Swimming Championships said after leading the Trojans to their third straight team title here.

"I don't think I'm near my peak yet," Saari said.

IN RECORD TIME

The Olympic veteran wasn't overtaken by anyone at the collegiate championships which wound up Saturday night. He won three individual titles in record time for the second straight year.

Saari lowered the American and collegiate record in the 1,650-yard freestyle to 16:39.9, the collegiate mark in the 200-yard freestyle to 1:42.9, and the American and college standards in the 500-yard freestyle to 4:43.6.

The Southern California ace was the only triple winner, but Steve Clark of Yale, Ken Sitzberger of Indiana, Gary Dille of Michigan State and Fred Schmidt of Indiana each won twice as eight American and nine collegiate records were bettered.

PA. YOUTH KILLED

BIPARTISAN TALKS NEEDED ON TOP BILLS

HARRISBURG (AP) — A top Republican Senator says Democrats and Republicans will have to sit down and talk things over if there is to be any prime legislation passed this session.

"Neither party can afford to have good legislation die this session," Stanley G. Stroup, Senate majority leader, said. "I think the time will come... when we'll have to sit down (with the House Democratic leadership) and come to some agreement," he said over the weekend. "I think we'll be able to do that."

HAVE OWN VERSIONS

Each chamber — The Democratic-controlled House and the Republican-controlled Senate — has produced its version of important bills. A key example is the school bus bill.

The question seems to be which bill will be passed by which chamber and which party will take credit.

This is the situation as the General Assembly nears the three-month mark this week. The Senate meets at 3 p.m. today and the House an hour later.

CONTINUE HEARINGS

The House and Senate will continue their hearings this week on Gov. Scranton's proposed $1.261 billion budget. The Senate resumes its hearings on the school bus bill Wednesday.

Stroup said he was willing to meet House Democrats "halfway" in an effort to move proposed legislation along.

"This is a give-and-take proposition and I'm willing to meet them halfway," the Bedford County Republican said. "Eventually, we'll have to come to some understanding if we're to accomplish anything this session."

Meanwhile, in the House, minority leader Kenneth B. Lee says he is nearly helpless in pushing through administration legislation.

LACKS COMMUNICATION

The Sullivan County Republican indicated that the only way to break this log jam would be for Gov. Scranton to intervene with Francis R. Smith, Democratic city chairman of Philadelphia.

Repeating the Republican contention that Smith cracks the

Will Aid Thailand To County Reds

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — The United States will assist Thailand in establishing a new type of police force in northeast Thailand to help counter Communist insurgency, the Thai government announced today.

Deputy Premier Praphas Charusathien said the United States will provide weapons, equipment and technical assistance.

NO TRACE OF KATHY SHEA

TYRONE, Pa. (AP) — An investigation was continuing today into the disappearance of a 6-year-old Tyrone girl but an official search no longer was being made.

The search for Kathy Shea was discontinued Sunday at the request of state police, said R. K. Meredith, civil defense director for the Tyrone area.

The girl disappeared while en route from her home to kindergarten March 18.

Meredith said 25 to 50 volunteers were on call in case state police needed them. The FBI also was investigating.

Headquarters for the investigation will continue to be the civil defense headquarters here.

Some 50 persons combed the Tyrone area Sunday and more than 300 searched the Juniata and Susquehanna rivers as far as Harrisburg.

An estimated 9,500 persons put in 75,000 manhours over a 500-square mile area during the search, Meredith said.

TRAIN CRASHES

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Nineteen persons were reported killed and 33 injured early today when a commuter's train crashed into a derailed freight train.

Whip on legislation before the House, Lee said:

"I have no means of communications with Frank Smith and I have no indication on his part to communicate with me."

Of the eight major administration bills passed by the Senate, four similar proposals were introduced in the House by Democrats.

The lone administration bill to reach the House and to be released from committee is one that would expand the state's program of care for the senile.

ACTION SLOWS ON TOP BILLS ASKED BY LBJ

By WILLIAM ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's chances of getting House action before Easter on three top-priority bills appeared today to be improbable, if not impossible.

The three measures on which the President wanted quick passage are a voting-rights bill, a $1.3-billion aid-to-education measure, and a proposal for comprehensive health care for the elderly.

House leaders who had mapped out a rigid timetable to accommodate the President's wishes have all but tossed it out in the face of legislative realities.

SENATE GETS BILL

The school measure, first of its kind ever passed by the House, was sent to the Senate in a night session last Friday. It is in the hands of the Senate Education and Labor Committee which has been friendly to school bills in past years.

The health-care bill cleared the House Ways and Means Committee last week but cannot go before the Rules Committee before Tuesday at the earliest.

Indications were it would not receive Rules Committee attention before Wednesday.

WILL HOLD HEARINGS

The committee is expected to hold a minimum of several days of hearings on the complicated and cumbersome bill before clearing it for House consideration.

Administration leaders, while publicly hoping to get House debate under way late this week, have conceded privately that the outlook is dark. They now plan to vote next week.

The voting-rights measure, now at the top of the priority list, originally was scheduled for several days of hearings before the House Judiciary Committee. The committee already has spent more than a week on hearings and has witnesses scheduled for four days this week.

The bill then will start its tedious journey through a subcommittee, then the full Judiciary group, and finally the Rules Committee. There is little likelihood that it will be in a position for House action until after Easter.

Attempt To Bomb Embassies In Libya

BONN, Germany (AP) — The West German Foreign Office says bomb attacks were made Saturday on a branch of the West German Embassy and the U.S. consulate in Benghazi, Libya. No one was injured, a spokesman added.

It was the third attack on a West German mission in an Arab nation since Bonn announced it would seek diplomatic relations with Israel.

Fonda Injured In Battle Scene

SEGOVIA, Spain (AP) — American actor Henry Fonda suffered a pierced right hand Sunday during the shooting of battle scenes for the movie, "The Battle of the Bulge."

Company officials said a steel projection of the rifle bolt carried by Fonda pierced his hand when he fell on a muddy battlefield. He was given a tetanus injection.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon has asked Congress to spend $4 million more providing protection for presidents.

Dillon made his plea before a House Appropriations subcommittee during a closed meeting Feb. 15. The transcript was made public Sunday.

Skyraiders Accidentally Bomb Own Ground Troops; Americans In Battalion

By HORST FAAS

SUI DAY, South Viet Nam (AP) — "My God! Oh my God!" the American captain said as a Skyraider screamed in to accidentally bomb troops of the 9th South Vietnamese Regiment's 1st Battalion for the second time in a month. Both attacks were on a Sunday.

Capt. Robert Duker of Burlington, Iowa, went down on his knees as he heard the plane dive, then threw himself face down on the ground as the earth heaved under the impact of the bomb explosion.

CALLS ALERT

Spec. 4 Roger Wafford of Buchanan, Mich., began shouting, "Aloft Aloft" over his pack radio while running for cover. "Aloft" was the call sign of the liaison plane overhead to coordinate action between the Skyraiders and the ground troops.

Wafford's transmission was broken off as the ear-shattering explosion knocked him down. When he could continue, Wafford shouted over the radio, "Stop the Skyraiders. The bombs are falling right on us." Branches, chunks of earth, rocks and other debris were still raining back to earth.

SECOND PLANE PASSES

Everyone pressed his face in the dirt as the second Skyraider began its bombing dive. The plane did not release its bombs, apparently after having been alerted by the liaison plane.

It was not known whether the Skyraiders were from the American or Vietnamese air force, or why the bombers picked out the government troops for their target.

In the rear company, the screams of a wounded Vietnamese soldier were heard. Vietnamese soldiers usually do not cry out even when they have been badly wounded.

REPORTS BOMBING

Duker took over the radio and called the regimental command post to report the bombing. His knees trembling, Wafford, 23, rose to his feet and then sank to a kneeling position, covering his face with trembling hands for a few moments.

"For the second time now, I never thought I would have to go through this," he said. Duker and Wafford moved 60 yards to the rear, where the bomb had exploded.

In all, one man was dead and 10 seriously wounded. Many others had minor wounds.

Four members of the battalion were killed and 15 wounded on March 1 by bombs from U.S. Air Force B57s. That time the forward air controller marked the wrong target.

Plans To Return To Panama In Fall

LONDON (AP) — Dr. Roberto Arias, husband of Ballerina Margot Fonteyn, plans to return next fall to Panama, where he was gravely wounded in a political shooting last year.

The 47-year-old Arias left a hospital Sunday to spend a week at Dame Margot's London home. He wore a surgical collar and could speak only haltingly.

Merger Of 2 Railroads Is Approved By 2 Examiners

By JOSEPH E. MOHBAAT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads was recommended today by examiners for the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Strict conditions were laid down, one of which would require the two railroads to provide freight service over the lines of the New Haven Railroad.

But the examiners—contrary to expectations in the railroad industry—did not recommend that the merged Penn-Central system support the New Haven's bankrupt passenger operations "unless a plan is provided to offset the present operating deficits on a sound economic basis."

19,631-MILE ROUTE

The merger, if approved by the full commission, would create a 19,631-mile system that would operate in 14 states, the District of Columbia and Canada.

It would serve most major population centers between the East Coast and the Mississippi River.

Examiners Jerome K. Lyle and Henry C. Darmstadter, who conducted extensive hearings on the complex proposal, concluded:

"It is our belief that the overall benefits to be derived from consummation of the proposed merger clearly outweigh any injury which has not nor cannot be protected through the imposition of conditions" (sic).

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia radio station WIP news director Paul E. Rust has been elected president of the greater Philadelphia chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism society, it was announced Sunday. Other officers chosen included William E. Strasburg, president of Montgomery Publishing Co., Fort Washington, first vice president; Merrill P. Pitt, editor of TV Guide, second vice president; Robert D. Crompton, director of press relations for the Atlantic Refining Co., secretary; Charles T. Alexander Jr., managing editor of the Wilmington (Del.) News-Journal, treasurer.

Scott Supports Cooperation Act

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said today old grant-in-aid programs never die or even fade away.

In prepared testimony for a Senate government operations subcommittee, Scott said he is in support of a bill known as the Inter governmental Cooperation Act of 1965 of which he is a cosponsor.

Grants-in-aid have proven to be an effective method of federal-state-local cooperation, providing a method of accomplishing national objectives while maintaining as much flexibility as possible for state and local governments, Scott said.

"However," he continued, "grant programs include varying requirements and restrictions regarding procedures to be followed by state and local governments, some of which may not be necessary or could permit greater flexibility than is presently available."

GOVERNOR AIDS NEGRO SCHOOL END BOYCOTT

JONESBORO, La. (AP) — Gov. John J. McKeithen's extraordinary effort to ease racial tension here ended a Negro high school boycott today.

The pupils voted to return to classes at Jackson High pending the outcome of conferences between a Negro parent-student committee and the Jackson Parish School Board.

McKeithen flew here from Baton Rouge Saturday to hear Negro grievances and talk with leaders on both sides.

Negro leaders had predicted that this little north Louisiana town was potentially "another Selma."

KLAN BURNS CROSS

The Ku Klux Klan fired some crosses here and elsewhere in Louisiana Saturday night and Sunday after the governor's visit but no incidents were reported. A Negro march to the city hall shortly after dark Sunday was quiet.

McKeithen conferred with a Negro delegation at the high school, then toured the building and grounds.

The governor promised some immediate aid — particularly in regard to sending in new textbooks to replace those which are outdated or worn out.

Demonstrations in Jonesboro were triggered by the student boycott of all-Negro Jackson High March 8 after a false rumor that the football coach was to be fired for civil rights activities.

Upsala Cathedral in Sweden was dedicated in 1435.

John J. McClure, Former GOP Power, Died Sunday

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—John J. McClure, who for nearly six decades was a power in Chester County and Pennsylvania Republican politics, died Sunday from complications following a broken hip.

The 78-year-old McClure bounced back from a similarly broken hip in 1960 to again lead the Grand Old Party in Delaware County, just as he bounced back from other reverses in his lengthy career.

Words of sympathy flowed in to McClure's home in Chester. "He was a very warm, friendly and considerate and he will be greatly missed," said U.S. Sen. Hugh D. Scott, R-Pa. Lt. Gov. Raymond P. Shafer said "the Republican party has lost a great pillar of strength and I, a great friend."

M-SHAP MARCH 16

Gov. William Scranton, who was selected as the Republican candidate for governor and pressed into running at a meeting in McClure's house, was vacationing in Colorado and could not be reached.

McClure fell and broke a hip at his Chester home last March 16. He was taken to University Hospital here where he developed lung congestion. The hospital Sunday listed the cause of death as "heart failure."

McClure began working for the county Republican organization in 1908 when he was just 21 when his father died.

SERVED IN SENATE

He served in the Pennsylvania Senate from 1929 to 1936 when he was defeated for a third term. Despite the reverse, he remained at the helm of the party in Delaware County, and a persuasive voice in state and sometimes national politics.

In 1960 he strongly advocated the nomination of Richard Nixon for the presidency. To show how much that support meant, former Vice President Nixon, while campaigning in the area, drove several miles out of the way to wave a greeting to McClure, immobilized on his porch by that first broken hip.

STORMY SESSION

It was also at his home, where he was still immobilized by the broken hip, where Republican leaders met to slug it out and finally agree on William Scranton as their candidate for the Republican nomination for governor.

Scranton went on to win the office of governor, defeating former Philadelphia Mayor Richardson Dilworth, the democratic candidate.

Twice legal action threatened to dilute his influence as a party leader. In 1933 he was among 90 defendants indicted by a federal grand jury in a so-called "rum ring" case. He was charged with violating the Volstead act, specifically named as head of a protection ring and director of various activities of the organization. McClure and 70 others were convicted and he was fined $10,000 and sentenced to 18 months in prison. But he never served a day as the sentence was voided with the repeal of prohibition.

TWICE DIVORCED

In 1941 he was twice charged and twice acquitted on charges of fraudulent conversion in the purchase and sale to the city of a water company. It was alleged he and others bought the Chester water company in 1939 and sold it shortly to the city for a $250,000 profit.

He was twice divorced and married three times. The widow survives as do five children from two of the marriages.

Funeral arrangements were not yet complete.

Dr. Faus Services Set For Tuesday

INDIANA, Pa. (AP)—Funeral services will be held Tuesday for Dr. Raymond W. Faus, 64, a Methodist Church leader.

He was superintendent of the Blairsville District of the church's Western Pennsylvania Conference and lived in Greensburg.

Dr. Faus suffered a heart attack Saturday in a hotel and died about an hour later in Altoona Hospital. He was in town for a church conference.

Bishop W. Vernon Middleton of the Western Pennsylvania Conference will officiate at services. Burial will be in Indiana's Oakland Cemetery.

Dr. Faus is survived by his widow, Louise, and two daughters.

Clemente Is Back In Pirate Ranks

POMPAHO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Florida seemed a little more like the Sunshine State to the Pittsburgh Pirates today. Roberto Clemente was back in a Pittsburgh Pirates' baseball uniform.

Clemente, in bed for more than a month in Puerto Rico with what was believed to be malaria, worked out Sunday before the exhibition game with Baltimore and there is a good chance he'll be ready for opening day.

The 1964 National League batting champion said he has regained 10 pounds but still is 10 pounds underweight.

FIRE AT SHOPS

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP)—A three-story brick building at the Juniata Shops of the Pennsylvania Railroad in Altoona was hit by fire Sunday, causing damage a PRR spokesman said would amount to thousands of dollars.

No one was injured in the blaze which started in the basement. The cause was not determined.

RATTLING GOOD IDEA

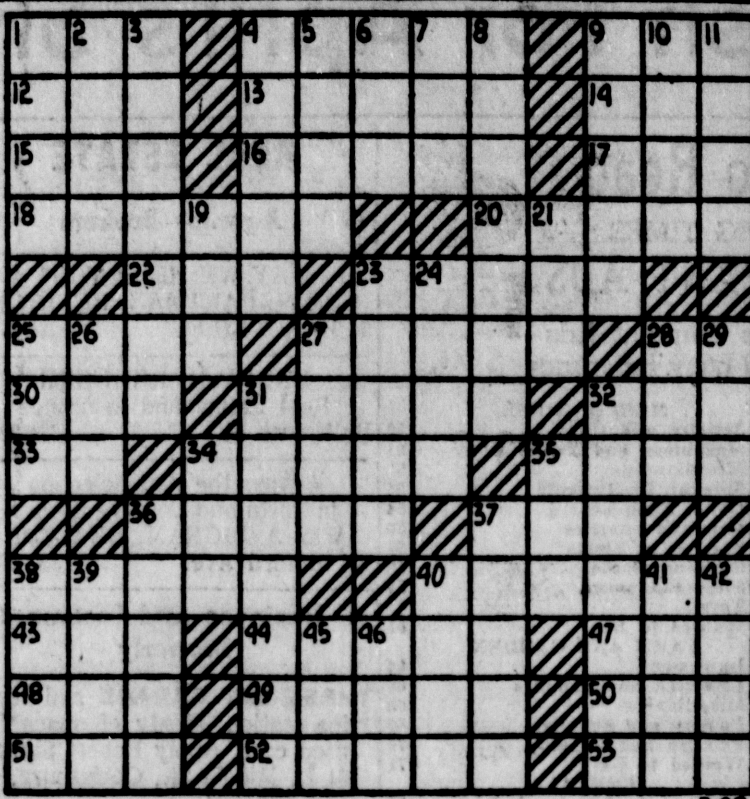

TUCKER, Ga. (AP)—A tucker pediatrician uses old typewriters to keep children pacified in his waiting room. He sawed off legs of a table and placed several typewriters on it for the kids. Now they cry only when they leave.

THE BELL WILL TOLL

THOMASTON, Ga. (AP)—Students at the R. E. Lee Institute acquired on old farm bell, mounted it on a portable stand and presented it to the high school. The bell will be tolled for those who excel scholastically and athletically.

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) —

Dicky Bryant, the North Carolina high school wrestling champion in the 98-pound class, has one disadvantage — both his legs have been cut off above the knees.

Gene Abercrombie, Dicky's wrestling coach at West Mecklenburg High School, said the youngster's opponents have some problems, too.

"Dicky is stronger in the arms and shoulders than most 98-pounders," he said. "But he does, of course, lack the advantage of legs."

USES ARTIFICIAL LEGS

"He has to do all his movements with his hands, and he has trouble pinning people because of his lack of balance. But the guy who wrestles him has a disadvantage, too."

Dicky's opponents also find the number of holds they can use restricted, the coach said. "Myers Park High School put a man on his knees in practice to get ready for Dicky. But they lost anyway."

Dicky normally walks very well on artificial legs, but he takes them off when he wrestles.

ACCIDENT VICTIM

The 15-year-old boy became interested in sports after he lost his legs in a train accident when he was 10.

"I never did become too athletic until after my accident," he said. "But then I couldn't just sit around home and do nothing."

For a while, the youngster said, he was very depressed. He gives his physician, Dr. Edward R. Hipp Sr. of Charlotte, credit for snapping him out of it.

Now the friendly youth jokes about his handicap.

HELP FROM COACH

Dicky showed interest in wrestling for West Mecklenburg last summer. Abercrombie checked the rules, and found no reason why he could not wrestle.

Abercrombie said Dicky received help from Dr. Sam Barnes, wrestling coach at the University of North Carolina.

"Barnes gave Dicky self-confidence," Abercrombie said. Dicky won his state championship in Boone, N.C., Feb. 26.

He won three of three matches, after winning three of three in regional competition and seven of eight in the regular season.

The youth likes all sports. In his spare time, he plays football, basketball, and baseball with his friends. He wears his artificial legs for these sports.
